

Our Hookers are Better Educated than Your Hookers

Tuesday, 16 February 2010

In one of the stranger stories we've come across lately, when it comes to which ethnicity has the smartest hookers in Italy, Hungarians come on top, according to a report in Népszabadság, which learned of this odd statistic from the local polizia.

Of female prostitutes working in the European Union, 70% are from Eastern and Central Europe.

Although three years earlier the list leader was Russia, these days it's Romania, with Hungary coming in fourth behind Moldova and Ukraine. Italian police said that the prostitutes who finished high school, are university students, or hold a higher education degree are usually Hungarians. Most of these girls work only seasonally during the summer, and their families don't even know what they are really doing. Take that, Romania and your uneducated hos!

(pesticide.hu)